

SUPPORT WHERE YOU NEED IT

When you choose LCN, you are buying more than a door control solution. You are part of a brand experience - one that is supported at every interaction.

Relationships that matter

20+ regional sales offices (RSOs) throughout the country are ready to help you with training, writing specifications, codes, technical support and more.

Comprehensive learning

- 40 regional and factory training courses
- 25+ online courses
- 150 educational and tutorial videos
- 60+ AIA courses

Answers to all your questions

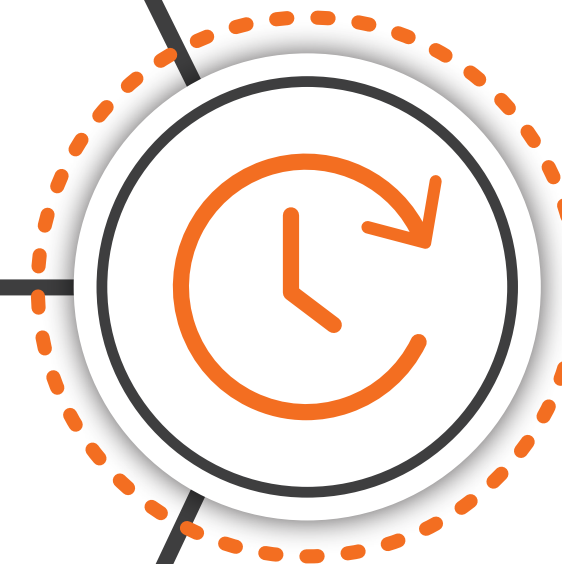

877-671-7011

Reach our support team by phone to address your product and application questions, troubleshooting and installation needs, commissioning and more.

Time savings

Knowledgeable of local and national building codes, our specification writers can customize a solution to address the unique needs of your facility.

Decoding codes

Code education and support, with real-world examples and additional resources on fire, building, accessibility codes, and more.

Peace of mind

Field support specialists visit job sites to

- Evaluate product applications
- Assess installation issues
- Conduct post installation reviews
- Make field adjustments

With LCN, you can feel confident that you have the right product for the right application — all designed with the safety and security you expect.

